Annual Wage Guarantee To Be CIO Goal

Steelworkers Slated To Push Demand Next Year, UAW In 1955

CLEVELAND (AP)—The CIO today advanced the guaranteed annual wage as a major bargaining goal at its closing convention sessions here.

Walter P. Reuther was elected without opposition today to his second term as CIO president. He was elected by acclamation.

Reuther, the 46-year-old United Auto Workers unionist, had to engage in a bitter showdown fight for the office only a year ago after the death of President Philip Murray. Executive Vice President John V. Riffe, Secretary-Treasurer, James B. Carey and eight vice presidents also were assured of reelection without a contest.

A resolution favoring employer payment of a full year's jobless pay for workers becoming unemployed also will be considered by the 700 delegates. There was little doubt it would receive approval.

Reuther's own auto workers union has plugged for the guaranteed wage as a major aim in 1955 when its present long-term contract with the industry expires. The CIO's other million-member union, the steelworkers, will demand the guaranteed wage in 1954 contract negotiations.

"THE AVERAGE worker does not know from week to week when his job will suddenly stop," CIO officers told the convention. "Yet his family still must be fed and clothed and housed."

"By negotiating guaranteed annual wage agreements from wealthy corporations, CIO unions can enable workers to plan ahead with the knowledge they will have steady incomes, thus bringing new security to workers' homes and greater economic stability to the nation."

CIO leaders said employers can reduce their liability for such plans by the amount workers may receive in state unemployment compensation payments. Employers' contributions largely maintain such unemployment funds.

Management groups have attacked the guaranteed wage idea, contending it could bankrupt individual employers lacking control over factors needed to maintain year-around production.

The bitter rivalry which marked last year's convention when the steelworkers union president, David J. McDonald, supported the late Allan Haywood against Reuther for the CIO presidency has been absent from this convention.

McDonald missed most of the convention sessions in what many observers regarded as a boycott intended to embarrass Reuther. But neither McDonald nor his union has raised any convention opposition.

Reuther yesterday charted an organizing goal for a million new members in the coming year and said it could be achieved if the CIO would revive a presently "dormant" fighting spirit.

HST Declines New Comment About Probe

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Harry S. Truman had the time, the place and the audience last night to add verbal fire to the Harry Dexter White controversy, but he didn't.

Thus it was the former President stuck to his oft-repeated statement he would have no more comment to make on the issue.

He spoke briefly to about 350 members of the Jackson County Young Democrats, Inc., at a dinner meeting. They cheered him. He smiled, said he was happy.

Once he referred to the "controversy this week" and then read from several of the telegrams he had received after his speech Monday night.

That was when he replied to charges of Atty. Gen. Brownell that he kept the late Harry Dexter White in government service when he knew him to be a Communist spy. One of the telegrams read:

"Give 'em hell, Harry. The newspapers need the money."

The former President also told the Democrats:

"Since the time of Jefferson the people have tried to keep the government out of the hands of special privilege. The Democrats allways have tried to do this, but we didn't succeed very well last year. "What we need to do is to set our house in order here at home, and we must have a vigorous Democratic organization to present the facts to the people of the United States. If we do, after the next election we can have forward-looking men in Congress."

Root To Get Safety Head Job; Speakman Will Stay In Office

Mayor-elect Robert E. Hedges announced Friday he will name Magistrate Oscar Root as city safety director under the new municipal administration after Jan. 1.

He also said City Service Director Dewey Speakman will be retained in that office. The mayor-elect's announcement gave no indication as to his plans for the city health department.

Hedges said: "During my campaign, I promised the people of Circleville that I would make my appointments to the best of my ability regardless of politics. My appointment to the service department will remain in the hands of Dewey Speakman, who I feel has been doing a sincere job."

"CIRCLEVILLE is definitely a growing city, and with every city growing as fast as we are, there are bound to be problems and obstacles to overcome. I feel sure Mr. Speakman will continue to give Circleville the best possible service that he can, and will continue to cooperate with the public to the best of his department's ability.

"To the position of safety director I will appoint Magistrate Oscar Root, whose office of justice of peace will cease to exist with the beginning of our municipal court on Jan. 1. I feel Mr. Root's experience in the law courts, and his experience with various departments that he has been connected with in the past, qualify him to the office of safety director."

After being notified of the mayor-elect's announcement, Root said his term as safety director will be based on the policy that no group or individual is entitled to special consideration in Circleville. He said: "I am greatly honored by the announcement that I will take office as safety director when the new city administration goes in after the first of the year. I'll

Sensenbrenner Is Victorious

Maynard "Jack" Sensenbrenner, native of Circleville, officially was named mayor-elect of Columbus Friday afternoon following a recount of 94 Columbus precincts.

Republican Mayor Robert Oestreich conceded defeat in the Nov. 3 election shortly after noon Friday when it became obvious Sensenbrenner had been victorious.

Final total following the recount gave Sensenbrenner 40,651 votes while Oestreich was credited with only 40,398, a margin of 253 votes in favor of Sensenbrenner. In the first official count, the Circleville native had been accorded a margin of 327 votes.

Marshal Tito Unworried As Election Nears

Sunday Poll To See No Anti-Government Candidates In Race

BELGRADE (AP)—Communist-dominated Yugoslavia will elect a new People's Parliament Sunday. The ballot will be secret but rigid rules make the election a one-party primary and assure Marshal Tito's unworried administration a whopping vote of confidence.

The countrywide balloting will be conducted under the new constitution. It bans anti-government candidates and restricts office-seekers to members of Tito's "Socialist Alliance of the Working Peoples."

But it does permit alliance members to contest for individual seats. A voter also can mark out all the candidates to show disapproval.

The pre-election campaign has been overshadowed by the bitter feud between Yugoslavia and Italy over future control of the Trieste territory. The dispute flared after the British-American decision Oct. 8 to turn the territory's Zone A over to Italy.

Yugoslavia, which already controls Zone B and, like Italy, claims the entire territory, threatened to march its forces into Zone A if Italian troops set foot in the area.

THE QUARREL has served to strengthen Tito's position by largely obscuring such domestic problems as widespread discontent over inadequate housing, church-state differences and peasant farming.

The voters will choose 353 members to the federal council, roughly comparable to the U. S. House of Representatives. The rigidity of the election rules is perhaps best demonstrated by the fact that there are only a score more candidates than seats available.

The 202 members of parliament's second house, the council of producers, are being elected separately by workers "directly engaged in production."

These include those in state enterprises turning out textiles and machinery and farmers who are members of state collectives.

The work of the producers council is largely confined to state finances. This is Yugoslavia's third postwar election.

Ohio Hunting Due Monday If It Rains

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Wildlife Council today tentatively approved opening of the pheasant-rabbit hunting season for Monday a week after it was scheduled to start.

The council said it acted because rains are predicted before Monday, erasing some of the alarm over possible forest and field fires.

However, should rains fail to materialize, the council said it would meet again Sunday and probably extend the ban on shooting which was clamped down a week ago because of the dry weather.

The council, in its final act at today's session, decided the rabbit season would not be extended beyond the Jan. 1 closing date, and that the pheasant season would close Dec. 5 as scheduled.

Pheasant shooters will have 12 days of bird hunting, the same as in 1952 when the season closed Dec. 1, the council having granted an extension of the original season when the 1953 dates were fixed.

The Ohio weatherman has predicted some rain for the weekend, adding that it may turn to snow flurries Sunday.

He expects rain or snow again Tuesday or Wednesday with total rainfall of about one full inch. But he has been predicting "showers" nearly all this week and they haven't materialized yet.

Indian Summer Once Was Considered Feared And Far From Pleasant Time

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Enjoying the warm weather and bright sunny days of Indian summer? Most folks are. But there was a time when residents in this lush farming area of southeastern Pennsylvania feared the onset of those late fall sunny periods.

Herb Krone, a veteran spokesman for the Groundhog Club, which annually predicts whether spring or more winter is due after Feb. 2, said he found an explanation of the term Indian summer in Maer's Farmer's Almanac for 1828.

The explanation was printed in Pennsylvania Dutch dialect, which Krone translated this way: "The reader must be reminded that during the long-continued Indian wars the settlers enjoyed no peace except in the winter season, during which the Indians were unable to raid the settlements."

"The onset of winter weather was therefore hailed as a jubilee, a time at which the settlers could come out of the forest and not be subjected to the danger of Indian raids."

"It sometimes happened that after the apparent onset of winter the weather became warm. This was Indian summer because it gave the Indians an opportunity to make surprise raids on the settlements and wage destructive warfare."

"The melting of the snow in Indian summer saddened every countenance and the genial warmth of the sun chilled every heart. The fear of Indian attacks again gripped the little settlements."

Kidnap-Killers Slated To Die Together In Gas Chamber

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The condemned kidnap-killers of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease waited in jail cells today for their last trip, the one to the lethal gas chamber in the Missouri State Prison just one week before Christmas.

Carl Austin Hall and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady will be executed at the same time—as soon as possible after 12:01 a. m. Dec. 18.

They showed little emotion yesterday as they heard a federal judge, carrying out a jury's recommendation, sentence them to die.

But an Episcopal rector who visited them later said the kidnapers appeared remorseful.

"When I saw him previous to the trial on two occasions his first statements were those of remorse," said the Rev. George Evans. "I saw him again this afternoon and at his request talked to Mrs. Heady. This was the first time I had seen Mrs. Heady. She likewise expressed great contrition."

A federal official said, "There have been double executions before and we plan to do it in this case."

Hall and Mrs. Heady will be seated in the gas chamber on two metal chairs about three feet apart. Under the chairs are stone crocks containing sulphuric acid. When the prisoners are strapped into place, a lever is tripped, causing cyanide to drop into the acid and producing a deadly gas.

"The gas renders them unconscious within a matter of seconds," the official said.

Acting U. S. Marshal William Tatman indicated they would be moved to the death row in the state prison at Jefferson City within a few days.

Mrs. Heady will be the first woman to die in the Missouri gas chamber. The 30 men who have been executed there have been stripped to their shorts to lessen the possibility of gas clinging to their clothing.

Arrangements have been made for Mrs. Heady to be clad in long

Korean Veteran Dies In Crash

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—A Korean war veteran with only four hours of flying instruction died yesterday when he made an unauthorized flight in his Army surplus plane and crashed.

Attendants at Bird Airport said Avery Wilson Jr., 22, went up alone in the TP19 Army trainer and crashed after the ship stalled during a landing attempt.

black shorts and a black halter. She will be blindfolded, as will Hall.

There was small chance of an appeal. Roy Dietrich, court-appointed attorney for Hall, said he saw nothing to warrant appealing the decision of U. S. District Judge Albert L. Reeves.

The 34-year-old playboy and his 41-year-old alcoholic mistress watched dry-eyed as the tragic case drew to a dramatic close on the fourth day of the trial.

They seemed relieved as they were hustled out of the courtroom, handcuffed to waist chains and closely guarded by U. S. deputy marshals on their way back to their separate cells.

After the jury retired for its deliberations, a death recommendation for Hall was decided on immediately. However, one juror held out for life imprisonment for Mrs. Heady, it was learned last night. He finally agreed on the death penalty for her also after an hour's persuasion. The jury was out only 64 minutes.

Warren Explains Why Community Should Gear Itself For Expansion

Importance of Circleville's corporate extension plan was stressed today and answers were provided for questions posed by some officials who see no need for the community gearing itself to present and possibly future industry.

Charles R. Warren, general industrial commissioner of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, entered into the picture at request of The Herald and set forth facts of vast importance to both the city and the county.

First, Mr. Warren pointed out that neither the General Electric nor Dupont plants just "came" to Circleville. "The General Electric Co.," Mr. Warren said, "spent considerable money, time and effort in making a study of many sites when the firm was planning two new plants. In selecting the sites I know that other locations with which we worked with GE were Nelsonville, Chillicothe, Lancaster and Logan and they all were very close to filling the needs for the two plants. Only the diligent efforts of the railway and utility industrial representatives persuaded the industry to erect a plant in Circleville."

"The Dupont plant," Mr. Warren continued, "had much greater competition than either of the other two and Circleville was on the verge of losing this plant due to the housing shortage in the area. But we promised this plant we would use our efforts to improve this situation. As far as I know the only request that has been made on the city of Circleville is that it provide utilities to the various areas in which good housing could be provided."

"THE DUPONT company's first unit in Circleville is nearing completion and members of the operating personnel are making inquiries about rental or purchase of homes. They are very discouraged and may find it necessary to look for homes elsewhere. As a consequence Circleville may lose in trade and the county will lose in taxes."

"The program for the Dupont company calls for expansion if satisfactory housing for workers can be obtained in the present location. Unless there is satisfactory housing for Dupont workers in the immediate area Dupont will have to look for other locations for expansion."

"It seems ridiculous to my department that after working for three years or more and giving every assistance we possibly could to sell an industry like Dupont to locate its plant at Circleville that we should hear of anyone believing that Dupont 'came' there."

"I am confident that the business men and all the citizens of Circleville have a wonderful outlook for a vastly improved city and county and that they should

TOLEDO (AP)—A 16-year-old youth who police said tried to flee after he and a companion were caught rifling a safe early today was shot and killed by a patrolman.

Patrolman Joseph Ben said the boy, John Alvin Loe, leaped through a plate glass window of the crossroads cafe and started running down the sidewalk. Ben fired one shot over Loe's head and a second into his neck.

Loe was pronounced dead on arrival at Mercy Hospital, where his mother was a patient.

'Strong Censure' Of Israel Looming

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States got ready today to launch the Western Big Three's demand that the Security Council vote the "strongest censure" of the armed Israeli attack on the Jordan border village of Kibya last month.

U. S. Delegate James Wadsworth was prepared to present the initial arguments to the 11-nation council this afternoon supporting a resolution drafted by the United States, Britain and France. It terms the Oct. 14-15 assault on the village, in which 53 Arabs died, a violation of the Palestine armistice.

Reds Refuse To Talk To Bolting Trio

Communist Diplomats Harangue U.S. Envoy In Stall For Time

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Communist officers today refused a face-to-face meeting with three Korean soldiers who last night bolted from a Red troop unit and were given refuge by American sentries.

The three said they were South Koreans and were shanghaied into the Communist army after being captured.

The Reds insisted that the three be returned immediately, but the U. N. Command said they would be turned over to Indian custody. If they refuse to go back to the Reds all presumably would be liberated in South Korea.

An Indian spokesman for the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission said, "no single man on the commission can decide this and it will have to be discussed at the full sitting of the commission tomorrow."

COMMUNIST members of the Panmunjom joint observer team refused to appear today for an investigation to determine the identity of the three fugitives.

The three soldiers, still dressed in Communist uniforms, said they were captured by the Communists in 1950 and 1951 and forced into the Red armies as laborers with a North Korean army unit.

After the armistice, they were among 100 prisoners who signed a petition asking to be sent back to South Korea. They were promised repatriation, but later were told they were not prisoners of war but members of the North Korean Red army.

The Koreans appeared exhausted but willing to talk.

They said they had walked from Chung-hwa, five miles south of the North Korean capital of Pyongyang, day and night for

Solon Doubts Much Action On T-H Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Barden (D-N.C.) said today he expects the next session of Congress to produce political storms which will greatly lessen prospects for revising the Taft-Hartley law.

"The time for operating on that patient," he said, "was when there was little heat, excitement and confusion."

And Barden, who is the senior Democrat on the House Labor Committee, predicted there will be plenty of excitement in Congress with elections coming up.

He said he would not hazard a guess on whether the administration will be able to make good on President Eisenhower's recently renewed pledge to overhaul the Taft-Hartley Act.

Barden said he wasn't disappointed by failure of Congress to act on suggested changes in the law last spring or summer. But he indicated he had expected the administration would push for congressional action.

"I didn't know we were going to hold these lengthy hearings, let everybody and his brother come up and testify, and then just 'whish' it off the board," Barden said, adding that the labor-management problem is so many-sided that it is impossible for members to steer a safe political course through it.

"No matter how you vote on the various phases of the law," he said, "you are bound to meet with criticism. You will catch hell if you put something in it and you will catch hell if you leave something out."

"And with the elections coming up, it is going to be brutal to put some of these fellows on the spot."

almost three days to the neutral zone, where they bolted to Allied lines.

The three said they all were born near Pusan.

They identified themselves as Sgt. L. C. Song Sang King, Pfc. Tak Ha Sik and Pfc. Kil Hu Bong.

Meanwhile, Communist diplomats fired a stream of abuse at U. S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean instead of answering his repeated demands to explain their "fuzzy" plan for neutrals to attend the Korean peace conference.

Dean said the Red "harangue" probably was just a stall until Peiping or Moscow sends orders to Communist diplomats meeting in Panmunjom to plan the conference.

DEAN SAID Friday's subcommittee session on composition and site could be written off "as a kind of zero."

Another subcommittee working on a starting date also reported no progress.

Both are scheduled to meet again Saturday.

The Communists want non-belligerent nations to attend the conference without a vote on major issues.

They apparently have abandoned early demands that some non-belligerents have full participation—a plan exactly opposite the U. N. proposal for a meeting of only those nations which fought in Korea.

Dean's pressure on the Reds to give details of their proposal indicates the Allies might be willing to reach some sort of compromise.

Warren Tells Of Need For Expansion

do everything in their power to promote the growth program. The Circleville area already had been placed in the critical category by the government housing agency before the C & O railway brought the Dupont plant there. The first representatives of Dupont were forced to find residence in places other than Circleville due to the housing shortage.

We know of no request being made of the people of Circleville to invest one cent in any housing program and, so far as we know, no resident of Circleville is planning such investment. The only active consideration of home building in Circleville has been by Columbus capital. In this respect I wish to call attention to the fact that the railroad and the department I represent cannot justify devoting our efforts and experience to any community that is not served directly by our line. Our interest in Circleville is due to the promise we made to Dupont that we would aid in promoting better housing in the area.

Mr. Warren's attention was called to the fact that some opponents of the city's corporate extension program have declared that announcement should be made now as to additional industries that are considering location in the Circleville area.

"WE WOULD not consider, under any circumstances, mentioning the names of firms that have placed their confidence in us," Mr. Warren said. "We feel that we have shown a definite interest in the Circleville area for location of industry. We do not divulge information relative to companies seeking plant locations until sites are optioned and bought. This is kept a secret even from our own official family. The interested concerns always are insistent on secrecy. They fear increased land costs and the effect such news might have on the personnel of existing plants."

"Circleville's planning commission appears to have approached Circleville's housing problem intelligently and in view of the city's promising future certainly is worthy of the backing of every county resident interested in progress."

"Pickaway County's future rests in the hands of its ruling body, the board of county commissioners. This board will rule on the program worked out by the city planning commission. The area included in the planning commission's program is vital to the future welfare of the entire county."

"Much more business is to be had, many more jobs made available for workers of the area, more taxes made available to the county and this all adds up to enhanced values for all business and residential properties."

Divorce Granted
Decree of divorce has been granted in Pickaway County common pleas court to Betty L. Dowden from Lawrence Faye Dowden on her cross petition accusing gross neglect and extreme cruelty. The court approves a property agreement previously arranged.

Public Urged To Keep Eye On Unification

City residents were minded Friday that a meeting set for 8 p. m. will involve important matters for all the community.

Mayor-elect Robert E. Hedges urged "all interested persons" to attend the Fall meeting of the Pickaway Community Health Council, to be held in First Methodist church. Top question listed for discussion and possible vote is whether it would be in the public's interest to merge the city health department with that of Pickaway County.

The health council has been considering such a merger for nearly a year. Representatives of the various groups which make up the council were warned to "come informed of the wishes of your group regarding a recommendation for or against unification."

Dr. E. A. Graber of the state health department will be among the main speakers.

HEDGES, WHO plans to attend, said: "I feel that all interested persons should be present, because the merger question is one that is vitally connected with the future of the city and county. At the same time, I want to emphasize that it has yet to be determined whether a merger of the two health departments would be a wise move."

A committee of City Councilmen also will be on hand, but it was stressed the city is not prepared to take an official stand on the question without further study. The health council can only recommend for or against the proposed action.

Line Violators Fined $20 Each
Two yellow line violators Thursday were fined $20 and costs each before the court of Mayor Ed Amey.

They were Fred A. Hedrich of West Virginia, arrested by State Patrolman Gene Miller; and Charlie Turner of Lorain, arrested by State Patrolman Ray Hoylman.

Warning Issued On Discarded Refrigerators

Mayor Ed Amey and Fire Chief Talmer Wise joined Friday in asking special precautions against potential death traps in the form of old ice boxes and refrigerators.

They called attention to the number of children who have been suffocated in discarded refrigerators in other sections of the nation and urged that steps be taken to see that such fatalities do not occur here. Several children in recent months have died in old refrigerators while at play, being trapped inside by the familiar catch latch and heavy doors or lids.

Amey, speaking also for the Fire Chief, said:

"We feel it's a good time to warn the local public that we have old refrigerators and ice boxes in junk yards, and discarded elsewhere around the city. All of them, as we have seen, are potential death traps for the children."

"Children should be warned especially to stay away from such hazards, and the locks on such discarded equipment should be broken to reduce the danger. Fire Chief Wise has already done this in a number of cases, but we feel a word to the community now may help save a life."

Wise said a number of families in this area have old refrigerators discarded around their homes.

The Circleville High School orchestra, under direction of Truman Eberly, presented selections during intermissions. This was their first appearance of the year.

A capacity crowd is expected for the final performance of the play, which will begin at 8 p. m. Friday.

The amount of goods and services turned out by the average American worker increased about two per cent a year from 1870 to 1950.

St. Lawrence River Power Project Eyed

Program Under Study For Decades Seen Reaching Reality

NEW YORK (AP) — An idea that has been, by turns, nursed along and kicked around by official bodies for decades may become a reality in a few months, when construction is expected to start on the 600 million dollar St. Lawrence River power project.

While this will represent just one phase of the controversial St. Lawrence Seaway, it will have a great impact on both sides of the border. The hydro-electric energy will give the industrial northeast United States an economic shot in the arm by reducing the differential between the cost of electric power in that region and other parts of the country.

The development also will answer a critical need for power in Canada's province of Ontario, where industries now are eating up every bit of energy available.

The Federal Power Commission and President Eisenhower have approved participation of New York State in the power development. Plans on financing and construction are going forward, pending action on three court appeals against the project. The New York Power Authority is confident the appeals will be out of the way by June 1954, at which time work can begin.

Three objecting litigants, Public Power & Water Corp., the Lake Ontario Land Development & Beach Protection Assn. and the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers Assn. are challenging the licensing of the New York authority to construct the project.

The power development is a necessary preliminary to the controversial St. Lawrence Seaway. As matters now stand, the seaway will be built by Canada alone unless Congress authorizes United States participation.

The Eisenhower administration has vigorously advocated United States' participation in construction of a joint seaway-power project. Congress repeatedly has refused to approve legislation under which this country would take part in the seaway. Such legislation is still before it.

The power development will produce 12 billion kilowatt hours of energy annually, more than either the Hoover or Grand Coulee dams. This will be divided equally between Ontario and New York state agencies.

John E. Burton, chairman of the New York authority, figures the project will make possible a reduction of 60 million dollars a year in the bills of electricity users in his state alone, because of its low production costs. An integrated power pool will send part of the electricity into the New England states, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

3 Permits Issued For $12,000 Homes

Three $12,000 homes are included in new construction work approved by the city planning and zoning commission.

Two of the building permits in that cost group were issued to George Brokaw of Laurelville for construction of two frame residences on Park View St. The third was issued to Gunner Muselman of 125 Park Place for construction of a frame residence at 101 Collins Court Drive.

Other permits issued, showing applicant, purpose of the permit and estimated costs, were as follows:

Jim Swoyer of Watt St., frame residence at 437 Watt St., $7,000; M. W. Burkhardt of 701 N. Pickaway St., garage, $2,000; Harley Van Fossen of 520 E. Union St., living quarters in rear, $1,000;

George H. Adkins of 402 E. Main St., garage at 676 E. Mound St., $700;

Joe Good of 924 S. Court St., garage, $400; and William Smith of 220 Barnes Ave., fence, no estimate listed.

Tait Declares CD Problem Now Critical

Bernard Tait, Pickaway County civil defense director, said Thursday he has received information which should bring about an immediate and sharp increase in emergency planning here.

He said notifications received through official channels indicate "we'll either have to get a civil defense organization set up here without delay, or else stand among the communities who can't get in step." All other communities in this section of the state, he warned, also are being told to step up their civil defense efforts.

"I can't go into detail on the matter at this time," Tait said, "and I know that will probably sound foolish to the skeptics who know how flat we are these days in civil defense for Pickaway County. Nevertheless, I can assure residents of the district that we now need a working civil defense organization more than we've ever needed it since the days of World War II.

"The public will learn before long how we are past the talking stage, and how immediate steps are going to be necessary. And I might add that if we don't do something about civil defense ourselves, officials in some of the adjoining sections are going to have to take over part of our responsibility."

Tait said he planned to confer immediately with Pickaway County Sheriff Charles Radcliff, who is listed in charge of the local ground observation corps. The civil defense head said the airwatch post here, like other emergency branches, will have to be revived without delay.

Report Denied

LONDON (AP)—Pakistan's governor general, Ghulam Mohammed, says reports his government is negotiating with the United States to trade military bases for American arms aid "are absolutely unfounded." Mohammed is en route home from a visit to the United States, where he conferred with President Eisenhower and other top officials.

Jobless Man Says Advertising Pays

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Victor Wagle, 31-year-old father of three children, needed a job. Today he had prospects of any number of jobs at $75 a week after he had inserted the following classified ad in the Springfield Daily News and Sun:

"Undependable, sloppy, liar, cheat, drunkard, allergic to work, man needs job, $75 week. Married, three children to support."

Mr. Wagle said he had been swamped with offers, including two for bartending jobs.

"Actually, I am just the opposite of those things I said in my ad," Mr. Wagle said, "but I thought the psychology would work."

Wedding Fete Held In Hospital

CHICAGO (AP)—A salaried at Passavant Hospital was the scene yesterday of the golden wedding anniversary celebration of a patient, Mrs. Pauline Wilcos, 74, and her husband, Clark N. Wilcos, 80, of Shioon, Wis.

The couple's daughter, Mrs. Monroe H. Toussaint of Algonquin, arranged the celebration after she learned her mother would not be released from the hospital for two weeks. The party was complete with family friends, lowers and cake.

MAN IN A HURRY

FROM A BRITISH intelligence source comes an analysis of Soviet Premier Malenkov that belies the general Western impression that he is an upstart trying to get his feet on the ground. To the contrary, Stalin's successor is pictured in this dissenting report as a highly educated, efficient and shrewd individual who knows precisely where he's going and intends to get there in a hurry.

Instead of being on an uneasy footing with the army, Malenkov is depicted as having the generals eating out of his hand. He astutely accomplished this by making the political commissars subservient to the military, where the reverse had been true, and by giving the armed forces greater voice in top party affairs.

Moreover, Malenkov's recent switch to consumer production is said not to be the concession to restive consumers it had been interpreted as being, but a calculating move to build up a skilled labor force for greater arms production.

Officials who do not fit in with the efficiency of the new regime are no longer purged but "retired" to some isolated spot where they may be out of sight and out of mind, according to this British resume on affairs in Russia.

The picture painted of Malenkov is that of a ruthless realist who can spell a lot of trouble for the West.

LONG-LIVED NIPPERS

THE BEST PART OF THE prediction by a couple of medical men that babies born today may expect to live 100 years is the rider they attach to it.

Today's nippers may expect to live that long, say the doctors, if they can avoid death by violence. There's the rub, and it would be a dedicated optimist who would say there was much in the contemporary environment conducive to any general achievement of the century mark.

It is heartening indeed to note what science is accomplishing in the way of enabling us to survive longer and more comfortably than our ancestors. At the same time, we cannot avoid reflecting on how science, working in other directions, is doing its best to blow the whole thing apart.

APPROACHING

PRESIDENTIAL PROCLAMATION calling attention to Thanksgiving Day November 26 served to jar many persons, who had not realized how imminent Christmas is, out of the rut in which they were blissfully hibernating.

But with Thanksgiving practically on top of us—though there is only one Thanksgiving Day this year—Christmas is just over the horizon. And if further proof is needed,

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

The attempt to foist responsibility in the Harry Dexter White case upon the FBI will fail because of the law, the operations of the FBI and the facts. The FBI got into this particular situation by sending a routine report to the President, Harry Truman, and to the Attorney General, Tom Clark, now a justice of the Supreme Court.

A routine report from the FBI is never a brief, an opinion, an obiter dictum, a decision. It is the product of investigation and evaluation.

The FBI is not a police force, a Gestapo, or an NKVD. It must be remembered that the FBI is not the sole investigative agency of limited jurisdiction; the Secret Service, the Narcotics Bureau, the CIA, the Immigration Bureau are similar agencies performing specific investigative duties.

Spies, saboteurs, subversives come under the charge of the FBI. A raw file is kept into which go all kinds of data, some of value, some at the moment worthless, some hard fact, some rumor, hearsay and gossip. Informant comes to such an agency as the FBI from many sources: its own operatives; undercover agents who voluntarily risk themselves to serve their country; citizens who write letters; cooperating police forces; crackpots who hate individuals, etc., etc.

All this material needs to be evaluated and the evaluation corroborated by skillful persons who know the entire subject matter into which the particular individual under investigation fits.

When a report is sent to a President, an Attorney General, or to the head of some other department of government, it is not a formal complaint for indictment such as a local police department might make to a prosecuting attorney.

It is merely a statement of fact upon which the President or the Attorney General may or may not decide to act. Such reports are routine.

The FBI is not an information bureau to which a citizen can apply for information. It is the investigative agency of the Department of Justice. If a citizen desires information, he should go to the Department of Justice.

In some matters, such as an annual report on crime in the United States, or the rise and fall of juvenile delinquency, or the nature of the Communist conspiracy, J. Edgar Hoover issues reports to the public, makes speeches and writes magazine articles, but the FBI never opens its files to anyone.

Although some citizens are willing to cooperate with this agency, they find that this does not entitle them to a reward in the form of a quid pro quo.

It is important to note that since J. Edgar Hoover has been at the head of the FBI, it has not once been involved in a scandal; it has not once been involved in a leak; no subversives have been found to have infiltrated it.

The Cat's Paw

by — MARION SALTER

SYNOPSIS
Charlotte Morgan's cats tried to tell her something when she returned to her apartment late the night before Christmas Eve after a long, bitter day of trying desperately to keep her mind on her creative advertising work in the hostile offices of the hated "King." She still could feel the eyes of Eric King burning into the back of her neck. She was serving a sentence, couldn't quit. The next day, while other office workers are holding Yule parties, "The King" postpones a staff meeting from 10:30 a. m. to 2 p. m.

CHAPTER THREE
NORMA spoke into the moody silence. "Let's all play stream-of-consciousness," she said. "We haven't for ages."

"It's cheaper than psychoanalysis," Tim laughed. "You pick a nice provocative word, Charlotte. Come on, Van Camp, get in on this too, while the boss is out."

"I've never played; how does it go?" she asked.

"Well," Tim explained, "someone picks a word; you write it down and then just let your mind go, starting with whatever the word suggests. Just feed down your own stream-of-consciousness. And if The King comes in, we'll look very busy, see."

"Do we have to show what we write?"

"Why, Miss Van Camp! Secrets in your unconscious. I've always suspected it. No, we just write for our own amusement. What's the word, Charlotte?"

"Policeman," she said slowly. "The policeman on the corner." She looked up, and it seemed to her that Dorothy and Velora exchanged glances. But then everybody began to write.

After a while, Charlotte read back what she'd written . . .

The policeman on the corner, corner, I'm cornered, brighten the corner where you are, they used to sing it in church long, long ago when I was young, when I was young, 'life has taught me truth and taken in exchange my youth,' and what is truth said jesting pilate and did not stay for answer, answer, what's the answer, that's a funny word, what's the w doing there, what am I doing here, but where could I go, where, where, dye my hair, take a bus, change my name, get lost, never see Eric again, never, quoth the raven never more, Eric, Eric, I seem to love Eric, there, it's said, tear it up and forget it, forget, so much to forget, he might forgive but not forget, he might, might, Kingsley Cummings thinks might is right, I don't know right from wrong, where would I learn earn yearn . . .

"I just figured out how much Mr. Cummings earns an hour," Doodles announced, indignant. "Five hundred bucks. That makes him five hundred times brighter than me. Do you think he is?"

"Impossible!" Eric laughed. "Didn't you play stream-of-consciousness?"

"No, I'm too young. There's nothing in my unconscious."

"That's the million-dollar difference between you and The King," Tim said. "Fascinating stuff came out of mine; I'd be a Freud to show it." He folded it into his inside pocket.

Charlotte noticed that Eric and Norma threw theirs away. Dorothy and Velora slipped theirs into desk drawers. Velora's must be good.

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt
Central Press Writer

Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson, who has been under fire from tillers of the soil, makes a five-day farm area tour. We understand the purpose is not solely to see if the frost is on the pumpkin.

Things look brighter for 1954, which will have only one Friday the Thirteenth. This year had three.

Seasonal note—nothing feels better than that first deep breath tak-

Charlotte thought, seeing how carefully she slipped it beneath the paper lining of the drawer. Charlotte tore her own into confetti for the wastebasket.

Suddenly she had to get out of here; it was near enough to lunch-time. Get out of here before the panic shows; save the surface and you save all. Slip on your "basic black" coat, your bright beret, smooth the gloves with the distant, detached air that makes people say, "You never really get to know Charlotte." Tilt the chin the way that causes them to say, "Charlotte's a snob." And all the while there was the birdbeat of her heart, the terrible tension that made her hurry, elbowing through the crowded store, out to the snowy street.

Fast, along Fifth Avenue, with its glimmer and its glamor. Fifth Avenue done up in technicolor, the red and green and gold of tinsel trim and balls and wreaths and Christmas trees. Twinkle of candles, tinkle of the corner Santas' bells, whiff of perfume, sniff of pine—Christmas in the air. Kaleidoscope of fabulous shop windows, the things that money can buy.

And there was the blur of faces. People buying presents for loved ones, people looking forward to Christmas. The people poured past her like liquid, the people pressed her, the surging strangers. And there was the noise. Screech of brakes and shrilling of whistles, impatient honkings and belching of buses, alarm of fire trucks and ambulances. Urgency! Emergency! Sound shattering her who was little and lost among the millions.

At last the panic died down. Guilt, Charlotte told herself. Your guilt complex is behind panic . . . She went to Woolworth's and bought a catnip mouse for April, a ball with a bell for May. Then she managed most of a bowl of soup. Now she had to go back to the store.

She'd rather go any place than back to the store, and the meeting. By the time Charlotte got upstairs to the conference room, the staff was already assembling. They nodded gravely to each other, in the manner of people at funerals, as they seated themselves according to protocol. The women buyers wore hats bright with flora and fauna and clutched huge purses. The men frowned importantly and kept leafing through the black notebooks they carried.

Tim, smelling of gum and cocktails, came and sat on one side of her. Eric, smelling of soap and tobacco, sat on the other. That was unfortunate, that should somehow have been prevented. She waited. Everybody waited.

At exactly two Mr. Cummings appeared. He paused in the doorway, combed, lofty, his watchful gray eyes unwarmed by the half-smile. Quickly and quietly he moved across the room to his armchair at the head of the table. The King's throne. He tapped a cigarette, and Mario leaped to light it for him.

He took time to blow three perfect smoke rings before he spoke. "I have a little story to tell you," he said at last. His voice was low, so that everyone had to listen intently.

Charlotte stared at his fine

A lady on a TV quiz program was asked, "What state is noted for in orange groves, movie studios, and songs beginning 'Da-da-da-da Here I come'?" She answered, "Illinois." In a deeply pained voice, the M.C. told her, "I'm afraid that's just a wee bit wrong. The state we're thinking about was California." ## NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

WASHINGTON — Although the White House has been gratified by the favorable reception which Vice-President Richard M. Nixon has enjoyed on his current world tour, President Eisenhower recognizes belatedly that he cannot promote the young man from California too fast and too far without incurring enemies within the Republican party and Congress. Ike privately deplores reports that he is prepping Nixon for the 1956 presidential nod.

In view of his youth and relative inexperience, GOP politicians were genuinely amazed when Eisenhower demanded Nixon as his running mate last year. It was all the more surprising because Sen. William F. Knowland of California would have had second place on the ticket, if the late Sen. Robert A. Taft had been named instead of Eisenhower. The Warren-Knowland and Nixon factions have never been friendly in state or national politics.

But Ike recognized them, as Attorney-General Herbert Brownell does now, that Roosevelt-Truman tolerance of fellow travelers at Washington would be a dominant issue in his struggle with Adlai E. Stevenson. The nomination of Nixon was a "natural."

PERSISTENCE — It was Nixon's persistence in confronting Alger Hiss with Whittaker Chambers that led to the former State Department aide's indictment and conviction. It was Nixon who, in a 1950 Senate speech, had first leaked about Truman's clearance of Harry Dexter White after receipt of an FBI warning. Finally, Stevenson had given a court-requested deposition in favor of Hiss' character and official discharge of his duties.

Since inauguration, Ike has continued to exalt the V. P. He has brought him into the Cabinet, and permitted him to preside at meetings when he, Eisenhower, had to be absent.

He has entrusted responsible and delicate Capitol Hill missions to the youngster. He capped these honors by sending Nixon around the world as his representative, and as the highest-ranking American ever to visit turbulent Southeast Asia, Australia and other remote areas.

MODESTY — Although Nixon has accepted acclaim with unique modesty, his triumph by proxy has gone to the heads of many of his congressional and California colleagues. In welcoming the

V. P. to Australia, Herbert V. Ewart, Labor Party leader, placed the guest among "five great Americans." The others were Roosevelt, Truman, Eisenhower and MacArthur.

In view of his naivete, Ike heard these anti-Nixon grumblings with amazement. He had accepted the conventional viewpoint that the vice-president was his No. 1 assistant, his understudy, his good right arm, and an integral member of the executive branch of the government.

NO. 2 MAN — Unfortunately, Ike is not familiar with Capitol Hill psychology. Nor has he read recent accounts of the peculiar and puzzling role which the vice-president is supposed to occupy as between Congress and the White House.

In the opinion of Senate-House members, the No. 2 man is expected to represent them not the chief executive, in his contacts with downtown Washington. This is especially true when the V. P. is a former representative and senator.

Capitol Hill's most popular vice-presidents have been those who dared to oppose and challenge the man in the White House, personally and politically. The roster includes such spunky figures as Dawes, Curtis, and Garner.

Alben W. Barkley was never so beloved as on the day he denounced a Roosevelt veto of a revenue measure, and resigned the leadership in protest. He was re-elected immediately and unopposed, and F. D. R. ate a deep dish of crow.

GESTURES — Although other factors admittedly helped to motivate Ike's anti-Nixon gestures, the fact is that they have mollified the growing bitterness. The President, for instance, named Gov. Earl Warren as Supreme Court justice.

He permitted Secretary Dulles to chide the V. P. for his pledge of permanent American support of the Chiang Kai-shek regime. He refused to endorse the Nixon entry, Glenard P. Lipscomb, in the recent special congressional election in the 24th California district.

As a result, the boys at the other end of Pennsylvania Avenue feel better. And the Nixon-for-President bandwagon has slowed down.

Robert Brehmer Addresses Pickaway Plains Daughters

Early Circleville Is Theme Of Topic

Robert Brehmer was guest speaker when Pickaway Plains Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Charles H. May of S. Court St.

Mrs. W. Emmerson Downing opened the meeting in ritualistic form. Mrs. R. R. Bales led in the Pledge of Allegiance, followed by group singing.

Mrs. Martin Cromley urged the members to save their clothing for boxes which are to be sent to approved schools in January. All articles are to be taken to the home of Mrs. Downing. Mrs. Cromley also asked the members to send a gift or a card to Christine Dexter, who is a student at Tammasee and is sponsored by the central district.

Mrs. Charles H. May gave a detailed report on National Defense. Mr. Brehmer's topic was "Did You Know?" Pertaining to the early history of Circleville, he asked, "Did you know that in 1851 a school for girls taught by Lucy M. Atwater, was located on South Court Street? One of the few remaining heritages of early Circleville, it is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. May."

"Did you know that the Methodist church bell carries this inscription: 'Presented to the M. E. church of Circleville by Frederick Cogswell, Esquire, 1857.'"

It is not commonly known that a skilled mechanic by the name of Diefenbaugh from Adelphi built the first pipe organ for the Presbyterian church, and that the bell calling the congregation of the Evangelical United Brethren church was borrowed 107 years ago.

Mr. Brehmer told of many more old landmarks and presented a contest on the sites of old landmarks. Mrs. Lee Shaner won the contest, with Mrs. J. Wray Henry and Mrs. Leora Sayre acting as judges.

In concluding his talk, Mr. Brehmer said that the early history of our community indicates a possible influence upon the squaring of the circle. He said he hoped that the citizens would take more interest in preserving the priceless history of Circleville.

A piano duet by Mrs. Cromley and Mrs. Rolland Featheringham concluded the program.

Mrs. May was assisted by Mrs. Bales, Mrs. Martin Cromley, Mrs. Featheringham, Mrs. Clark Hunsicker, Mrs. Lee Shaner, Mrs. Dwight Steele, Mrs. Stanley Beckett and Mrs. Seymour Millar.

Mrs. Downing and Miss Marie Hamilton presided at the tea service.

Berger Guild 16 Conducts Meeting

Berger hospital Guild 16 met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Charles Fullen of Northridge Road, with Miss Reba Lee assisting.

Final plans were made for participation in a bazaar to have held Friday. A report was made on solicitations for a Berger hospital building fund.

John Hardin Is Speaker At Nebraska Grange Meet

John Hardin, Pickaway County Polio chairman, addressed a meeting of Nebraska Grange, held Tuesday evening with Worthy Master Joseph Peters in charge.

Mr. Hardin explained the Polio program, and pointed out that it is the only communicable disease which is on the increase. He told how donations are used to aid local victims of Infantile Paralysis. He said, "We have obligations to our children, regardless of cost, therefore, we must help with our time and money. We live on faith, hope and charity, and we must not forget charity."

During a business session, the Grange voted to aid in the Polio campaign which will begin in January. Contribution was made to a Berger hospital gift fund and an appeal for aid was answered. The members voted to sponsor a basketball team.

Program consisted of tap dances by Patti Barr and Patty Collins, accompanied by Mrs. Boyd Fossnaugh; saxophone solo by Mrs. Neil Barr, accompanied by Sarah Jane Hedges; trumpet solo by Charles Hines, accompanied by Mrs. Harold Hines, and group singing.

T. M. Glick presented a Golden Sheaf certificate, issued by National Grange, to Ray Plum for holding continuous membership in the Grange for fifty years.

Refreshments were served by a committee led by Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Recobs.

Feature of a meeting planned for Dec. 1 is to be a report of delegates to a State Grange meeting to be held in Cleveland.

Bricker's Role As GOP Party Referee Cited

Leaders Hoping They Can Avoid Fights In Next May's Primary

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sen. John W. Bricker returns home today for an increasingly important role of referee among potential Republican candidates for senator and governor.

Party leaders want to avoid fights in the May primary election that could weaken GOP standard bearers who face formidable Democratic opposition in the general election next November.

They look to Bricker to prevent hostilities among prospective candidates who have been maneuvering while the senator was in South America on a congressional junket studying Export-Import Bank operations.

Bricker left the tour in Argentina to return for a Masonic function in Columbus tonight. Later he expects to huddle with GOP leaders over a party ticket.

Bricker, who became titular head of the party in Ohio with the death of Sen. Robert A. Taft, may have particular difficulty with aspirants to Taft's unexpired term.

Congressman George H. Bender of Cleveland has given strong indications that he wants to run for senator.

But a move has developed in southern Ohio for Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill of Marietta to make the senatorial race. O'Neill, who has a weather eye on the gubernatorial race, hasn't done anything to stop the talk about him for senator.

Bender, a seven-term congressman, has said before he might run for senator or governor, without leaving the barrier. But Cleveland sources assert he is determined to go this time.

Should Bender become "stubborn," Bricker might have trouble getting anti-Bender factions in the party to go along with his candidacy, except for re-election.

And Bricker could find himself in an awkward position because of previous praise of Bender as "Mr. Republican" of Cuyahoga County.

Bender received a citation as Ohio's outstanding Republican of 1952 at the annual dinner of the Ripon Club in Cleveland. Taft was the guest speaker and lavish in his praise of Bender.

A stenographic report of Taft's remarks included these observations:

"I think I am in a better position to testify to his loyalty and devotion than anyone. Throughout the years, he has been my close personal and political friend. Whenever a job was difficult in every one of my campaigns, I would say 'let George do it,' and he always delivered."

Bricker's telegram for the occasion said in part:

"I know of no one who has been more faithful, hard working and successful in the cause of good government and the election of Republican candidates than has George. He justly deserves your recognition as Mr. Republican."

Presenting Bender to the gathering was James A. Rhodes of Columbus, former Columbus mayor elected last year to the post of state auditor.

Associates of Bender said he would like to have Rhodes on the ticket with him, as a candidate for governor, probably because the state auditor's slam-bang campaign style is like his own.

Potential candidates for governor are pledged to avoid a primary fight but apparently the agreement does not extend to the senatorial race.

The situation is of especial concern to Republicans because of the prospect that Gov. Frank J. Lausche may seek a fifth term or run for Taft's unexpired term.

Lausche appointed Thomas A. Burke, former Democratic mayor of Cleveland, to fill Taft's vacant seat until after a successor is elected next November. Reports persist that Burke will run for the unexpired term or go for governor, depending on what Lausche decides to do.

Republicans who dislike the idea of a Bender-Rhodes ticket claim Bender and Burke would overwhelm them in Cleveland and other populous Democratic strongholds. They figure O'Neill would have a better chance against Burke in a senatorial race yet they all but despair of beating Lausche despite the professed willingness of some GOP candidates to try it.

The Republican State Finance Committee is awaiting a call from its chairman, Forest Williams of Portsmouth, for a meeting soon to review current figures and look at the 1954 financial picture. Members said the committee had nothing to do with shaping the party ticket others said the holders of campaign purse strings might carry considerable weight.

Saucers Again

LONDON (AP)—The Air Ministry says Britain's latest "flying saucer" probably was nothing but a weather balloon. The War Office reported Tuesday night that an RAF pilot sighted the "huge, glowing metallic object" over Britain's coastline.

Plumpness Helps Woman In Fall

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Her excess weight may have helped save the life of a 45-year-old woman who fell 13 stories from a hotel window, Jefferson Hospital physicians say. That, plus the facts that a skylight broke her fall and she landed in a sitting position.

Staff doctors said Mrs. Betty Green Kaskin's plumpness cushioned the shock. And while in a sitting position, they explained, the body is best able to diffuse shock.

The woman who is reported recovering from the fall Nov. 13, suffered a number of cracked vertebrae, broken ribs, a torn kidney and compound fractures of the right leg.

Babysitter Case Still Mystery

LACROSSE, Wis. (AP)—Almost four weeks have passed since the disappearance of pretty young Evelyn Hartley and with them have gone nearly all hope that the puzzle will be solved.

Police still follow through on the slimmest of possible leads but there is nothing resembling a break in the mystery.

There is little doubt that Evelyn, 15-year-old daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Richard Hartley, forcibly was abducted the night of Oct. 24 from a local home where she was baby sitting. Her continued absence is interpreted, even by her parents, as having no other possible meaning than she is dead.

Borrowed Books Run Expensive

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A waitress, Mrs. Mary Kittrell, borrowed three books from the public library and agreed to return them June 15, 1950.

Somehow, she neglected to return them, but the librarian didn't forget the incident. By the time Mrs. Kittrell was brought into Municipal Court the accumulated fine had risen to $65.70.

She was given a $25 fine yesterday, suspended upon condition she pay the amount due on the books. The books? "Father of the Bride," "Young Claudia," and "Blind Man's Buff."

Hunters Suffer From Crowding

Ohio hunters suffer from over-crowding.

R. K. Davis, extension wildlife conservationist at Ohio State University, said that if all the hunters in Ohio were in the field at one time there would be only 20 acres of farmland per hunter. Subtracting land around buildings, and land without good cover, that leaves no more than five huntable acres per hunter.

Hunting is permitted on 96 per cent of Ohio farmland or the sit-

High Jump Helps Man Save Life

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — A young pipelayer saved his life yesterday by leaping into the air when a 13-foot ditch in which he was working began to cave in. A companion died, however.

The high jump by William Brauh, 20, enabled him to keep the top of his head above the sliding earth that more than half filled the ditch. Other workers spotted his hair and quickly scooped the dirt from around the rest of his head. He was unconscious.

Ray Baer, 19, was dead, however, when removed from the ditch. A large rock had struck him on the head, crushing his skull.

Special Thanksgiving services will be held Sunday in the churches of Derby Methodist Charge. Services will be held as follows: Five Points, 9:30 a. m.; Pherson, 10:30 a. m.; Greenland, 2:30 p. m.; and Derby, 8 p. m.

Every 5th Death Still Occurs At Ages Under 45

Despite the progress made in reducing premature loss of life in the United States, one in every five deaths still occurs at ages under 45, life insurance statisticians report.

Since 1900, the proportion of deaths at ages 45 to 64 rose from 18 per cent to 28 per cent of the total; and at ages 65 and over, the proportion increased from about one fourth to more than one half of the total.

This shift in mortality to the older ages reflects to some extent the rise in the proportion of older people in the population, but it is principally due to the more rapid reduction in the death rate at the younger than at the older ages. For the age groups under 45, the decrease in the death rate since 1900 is about 65 per cent, and at ages under 15 about 85 per cent. The decrease at ages 45 to 54 is 43 per cent, and at ages 65 and over only 25 per cent.

A MAJOR factor in bringing about these changes in the age picture of mortality, according to the statisticians, has been the remarkable control gained over the infectious diseases of childhood and early adult life.

"It is to be expected that premature deaths will be reduced further," the statisticians observe, "which will mean a continuation of the long-term trend toward the concentration of mortality in later life."

'Wild Animal' Finally Nabbed

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — For about a month residents of the Zanesville area near North River have reported a wild animal running loose.

Some described it as a mountain lion; some as a cougar; some as a rabid fox and others as a bear cub.

Yesterday the beast came out of the woods, charged into a parked car and was corralled by sheriff's deputies.

The deputies didn't have to call in a wild animal expert. They knew a billy goat when they saw it.

5 Lives Lost On First Leg Of Auto Race

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Death haunted the road today as 128 drivers prepared for the second lap of the Pan-American Road Race, which so far has cost five lives.

The 1,912-mile drive from southern Mexico to the United States border began yesterday. Near Tehuantepec a Ford driven by Robert F. Christie of Grant's Pass, Ore., overturned on a curve. A crowd of spectators swarmed onto the highway and into the path of another Ford driven by Mickey Thompson of El Monte, Calif.

Before Thompson could stop, his car plowed into the throng, killing four. Neither Thompson nor Christie was injured.

Minutes later and only a short distance up the highway Giuseppe Escosutti of Italy was killed when the Ferrari in which he was the co-driver overturned.

The modified Chryslers were hailed as a threat to European sports cars started slow but hoped to gain today.

A Lancia driven by Felice Bonetto of Italy was first, covering the 330 miles from Tuxtla Gutierrez to the Guatemalan border to Oaxaca in 3 hours 28 minutes 14 seconds.

The best time for the Chryslers was 4:14:26, far down the line in 12th place. The driver was Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Ill.

Of the 177 cars which started, 49 dropped out for various reasons.

Johnson Collects Unanimous Nod

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Harold Johnson of Philadelphia was one step closer to a light heavyweight division title fight with Archie Moore today after defeating Chubb Wright last night.

Johnson, winning the 10-round decision unanimously, weighed 177, nine pounds lighter than the Reading, Pa., steelworker.

Tom Strawser, Instead Of Don

In an article Thursday which related to the selection of All-SCOL football players, it was incorrectly reported in the body of the story that Don Strawser was named a line-backer on the defensive honor team.

Actually, the honor was accorded to Tom Strawser, as shown in the complete list of league awards which followed the story.

Duke University's basketball team will play in two invitation tournaments during the Christmas holidays—the University of Kentucky Invitational, Dec. 21-22, and North Carolina State's Dixie Classic, Dec. 28-30.

Experts Wonder If Big Ten Really Giving Spartans Break

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—One learns in digesting a cross-section of Midwest sports columns that there is some skepticism about the Big Ten's promise to give Michigan State an even shake on a Rose Bowl vine in the event the Spartans wind up in a tie with Illinois Saturday night, as seems probable.

The boys who are closest to the unhappy situation imply strongly that Coach Biggy Munn's probationers will get the works if the Illini wins its final conference game with Northwestern and deadlocks the standing at 5-1, necessitating a weekend ballot on which team is to play in Pasadena New Year's Day.

The athletic directors who would take part in such a secret vote crossed their collective hearts the first of the week and swore to choose strictly on the record, ignoring the fact that the Spartans have been kept standing in the corner all season because they flunked a bookkeeping course.

Plainly, the Big Ten has gotten itself in an awkward fix by trying to chastise its baby member with one hand while cementing the good old bond of fellowship with the other. Some observers in the section claim that all the other teams in the powerful league ganged up on the Spartans in an effort to put them in their place and avoid just such a problem as has arisen.

In support of their belief that Illinois is a shoo-in for the coveted bowl berth if it wins Saturday, the skeptics say that the conference will leap at the opportunity to avoid sending a representative whose athletic purity has been questioned. They suspect this will more than offset the fact that Illinois played in the Rose Bowl recently while Michigan State is seeking its first assignment.

Pro Football Attendance Up

NEW YORK (AP)—Crowds at National Football League games this season are up 12 per cent over 1952 with 10 of the 12 teams sharing in the increase.

An Associated Press survey showed today the league has drawn 1,688,805 customers to its first 48 games. In the same number a year ago the total was 1,504,504, an increase this season of 184,301.

The Los Angeles Rams, making a battle for the Western Division title, show the greatest boost in business. The Rams topped the league in attendance for their first four games in each season but this year their total is 278,741, an increase of 84,024 fans.

6 More Ohio Colleges Near End Of Card

COLUMBUS (AP)—Six more Ohio colleges, making the total 29, wind up their 1953 football schedules in tomorrow's four-game program.

Nothing except a bit of prestige rides on the outcome of the quartet of contests.

Ohio State meets Michigan for the 50th time, this time in Ann Arbor where the Bucks haven't won since 1937. Ohio State (6-2) is a touchdown favorite over the Wolverines (5-3).

Ohio University, champion of the Mid-American Conference, and loser only to Harvard, winds up against Marshall at Huntington, W. Va. The "Thundering Herd" becomes a member of the rough and ready Mid-American circuit next fall, and the Bobcats are hoping to show them what they're up against.

The long-awaited Ohio Wesleyan-Akron game also pops up tomorrow, but most of the gloss has been tarnished. This one was slated all season to be for the Ohio Conference title, but the Zippers were dumped last week by Heidelberg's defending champions and the crown is Wesleyan's no matter what happens.

Xavier and Dayton, each with a losing season, meet Sunday in the Gem City in the second of their 1953 series. Back on Sept. 27 the Musketeers defeated Dayton 7-0, but the Cincinnati boys won a 2-7 record. Dayton has won three of eight.

Two Thanksgiving Day battles wind up the campaign. They send Case (1-6) against Western Reserve (4-3-1) in Cleveland, and Miami (7-0-1) against Cincinnati (8-1-0) on the latter's lot.

TV Grid Game To Start Late

NEW YORK (AP)—Because tomorrow's football telecast between Southern California and UCLA, originates in Los Angeles, transmission on TV will not start until 4:15 p. m. EST. Radio has these three events:

20-game roundup on CBS at 2:05. Illinois vs Northwestern, NBC and ABC 2:15.

Oklahoma vs Nebraska at Lincoln, MBS 2:45.

Farrell Named Indiana Pilot

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Kerby Farrell has been named manager of the Indianapolis American Association baseball club.

The 40-year-old Farrell directed Reading, Pa., to the pennant in the Eastern League last season.

He succeeds George (Bridie) Tebbetts who resigned to become manager of the Cincinnati National League club.

Massillon '11' Near Another State Crown

COLUMBUS (AP)—Massillon makes its big bid for a sixth-straight Ohio high school football championship tomorrow afternoon.

The terrific Tigers, who have won 56 of 59 under Coach Chuck Mather, including nine straight this season to run their victory string to 22, go against Canton McKinley on the Bulldog gridiron.

An impressive victory over McKinley, which has a 3-3-1 record, probably would lock up the title for "Touchdown, U.S.A.," where it has resided ever since Mather took over.

The state champion will be decided by the state's sports editors voting in the Associated Press poll following the weekend contests. The champ will receive the huge trophy awarded annually by the Rutgers Hall of Fame.

Portsmouth's Trojans, who have battled the Tigers for first place all season, wound up last week with a 4-4-0 win over Ironton.

Should McKinley upset the Massillon powerhouse there's a good chance the river city crew would ease into the top spot. Portsmouth has a 9-0 record.

Tenth-place Lisbon, with nine straight, finishes against Salem last Friday, but the other seven in the top 10 still have a game to play.

Here's the schedule:

Tonight — Cincinnati Purcell, third (9-0-0) at Dayton Chaminade, fifth (8-1-0); New Philadelphia, fourth (8-0-1) at Dover (5-4-0); Youngstown East (5-3-1) at Warren Harding, sixth (7-2-0); Cleveland Benedictine, eighth (8-1-0) at Cleveland Rhodes (8-0-1), and Toledo Scott (4-3-1) at Fremont Ross, ninth (8-0-1).

Tomorrow afternoon — Massillon, first (9-0-0) at Canton McKinley (3-5-1).

Thanksgiving Day — Toledo DeLibbiss, seventh (9-0-0) at Toledo Libbey (4-1-3).

Oberlin Harriers Dominate Meet

DELAWARE (AP)—Oberlin won its second consecutive Ohio Conference cross country championship yesterday scoring 24 points.

Ohio Wesleyan was second with 32 points and Wooster was third with 80. They were the only schools with full teams entered.

Sokolsky's These Days

Attacks on the FBI have been few. The worst is a book by Max Lowenthal, entitled "The Federal Bureau of Investigation," which seems to be a spite book. Max Lowenthal is a close friend of Harry Truman; in fact, he is reputed to have been responsible for maneuvering Truman into the Vice Presidency.

It is known that Harry Truman has been antagonistic to the FBI for several reasons, including the Kansas City election frauds case in which the ballot boxes were destroyed by an explosion, thus eliminating the principal evidence.

Max Lowenthal, Truman's friend, devotes a 559-page book to an attack on the FBI and particularly Hoover. He summarizes Truman's dislike for Hoover in this paragraph:

"There are some indications, however, that the views (praising Hoover) are not universally held by Americans interested in effective counter-espionage. President Truman, when he set up the CIA (Central Intelligence Agency) as a new espionage and counter-espionage organization, disregarded suggestions that Mr. Hoover himself should become the head of any such super-intelligence organization. In 1950, when the President made a new appointment to the post, he again disregarded the suggestions that Mr. Hoover be promoted to that position. Indeed, when the President created the CIA he went further and withdrew from the FBI the authority it had possessed for seven years in counter-espionage work throughout Central and South America."

The Harry Dexter White case, like the Alger Hiss and the Rosenberg cases, establishes the fact that the FBI has been alert while the White House was concerned with a cover up.

Farmers Are Awaiting Outcome Of Tax Court Decision

Conservation Practices May Be Deductible

Congressmen Seek New Law Okaying Work Deductions

Expenses of soil conservation practices have not been deductible for income tax purposes until now, but may be if a decision of the tax court of the United States in favor of a Kansas farm owner stands.

Even if the decision does not stand, Congress may remove any question about such deductions. Sen. Andrew Schoepel (R) and Rep. Howard Miller (D), both from Kansas, have introduced bills on the matter in Congress.

The decision was made in favor of J. H. Collingwood, Topeka banker who owns five farms. In 1947 he started a program of terracing. That year he spent $10,515.40. In 1948 he spent $3,378.46 and in 1949 spent $2,952.

He deducted these amounts from income on his tax return each year. Then he was notified by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue that he couldn't do this and would have to pay $6,126.57 in additional taxes.

THE TAX COURT ruled in favor of Collingwood on Sept. 4, 1953. If the Commissioner of Internal Revenue doesn't appeal the decision within 90 days (by December 4), the ruling stands and Collingwood won't have to pay the tax.

How will the decision affect other farmers who would like to make similar deductions? Here are the possibilities:

1. If the Commissioner appeals, the case will go to the Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals. A decision there in favor of Collingwood would be binding in all states in the Tenth Circuit — Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado, New Mexico, Wyoming and Utah. However, the Commissioner could later appeal to the Supreme Court whose decision would be binding to every state.

2. The Commissioner can accept the decision by public announcement. This would give others the same opportunity to take the deduction.

3. The Commissioner can announce non-acquiescence. Then other farmers could not expect their deduction to be allowed without going to court and winning a decision in their favor.

4. The Commissioner can make no announcement one way or the other.

Old Fire Engine Going Back Home

BALTIMORE (AP)—The chances of Alexandria, Va., getting back the old fire pumper George Washington once presented to one of its fire companies appeared assured today.

The Baltimore Fire Board agreed to lend the squat, 189-year-old engine to Alexandria officials for as long as they keep it on display in Friendship Firehouse, soon to be dedicated as a national shrine.

The loan is still to be approved by the Baltimore Board of Estimates.

Baltimore acquired the engine from a Frederick junk dealer in 1849 and it has been on display in the Washington Monument here.

Progress Made On Ohio Turnpike

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Turnpike Commission says all 241 miles of the Northern Ohio Turnpike except four miles near Elyria are under construction or have been advertised for bids.

Progress on the Elyria section is being held up because of disagreement between the commission and the city on location of the road.

other. Then tax officials all over the country would be on their own in allowing or disallowing the deduction.

There is much support for the Schoepel-Miller bills which would encourage conservation practices by allowing deductions for expenses of terracing, contour farming, dams, etc.

Enactment of this legislation will enable us to make great strides forward in conservation," says Sen. Schoepel. "I am not unaware that it will cost the government some revenue if such deductions are permitted. However, the ultimate good that will result in more productive crops and soil-saving will far exceed any temporary loss in revenue."

Hospital Drive Gifts Can Be Sent By Mail

A mailed donation arrangement was outlined Friday for residents of the district who have not as yet been asked to share in the opening drive of a long-range gift program in behalf of Berger hospital. A campaign to furnish a new wing being constructed at the hospital went into a "full steam" stretch last week.

Purpose of last week's effort was to give starting momentum for the hospital gift program, to be extended for an indefinite period. However, leaders of the opening drive explained solicitors in some areas were not able to contact all of the homes and business places.

For this reason, those who wish to contribute and have yet to do so are urged to mail their donations to Mrs. Joseph Bell, Box 437, Circleville. Those in charge of the campaign emphasize that any mailed donations should be accompanied by a slip of paper showing the name and address of the donor, along with the amount contributed. Checks should be made payable to "The Berger Hospital Gift Fund."

OFFICIAL TOTALS on last week's contributions still are being compiled. First reports indicated the opening drive to outfit the new hospital section registered an outstanding success. An effort is being made to obtain complete totals in the various city and county areas, it was explained, before final

Stubborn Baby Hippo Dies In Zoo

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Like its famous mother, Snookie's baby was too stubborn for its own good. The 75-pound, 3-day-old hippopotamus died of malnutrition yesterday after spurning Snookie's feeding attempts. It—Snookie—wouldn't allow caretakers close enough to determine sex—was Snookie's third baby. One drowned. Mama—all 4,000 pounds of her—sat on the other.

Snookie became famous a few years ago with an eight-day sit-down strike while being transferred from Chicago to Columbus Zoo.

Premier Resigns

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—The Premier of this Indochinese kingdom, Chan Nak, in office only two days, has resigned in a dispute with other politicians over when elections should be held.

amounts for the week are published.

The hospital gift program is under the supervision of the General Guild, but hundreds of non-Guild members volunteered to aid last week's "big push" to launch the effort. Many community leaders, in urging full support for the drive, called attention to the vital role the hospital will have in the city's expansion program.

Employment Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Department of Commerce study of regional employment showed today that almost all sections of the country employed more people in manufacturing during 1952 than in 1951. Only the east-south-central states reported a decline.

Constable Killed

HAMILTON (AP)—Harry Jackson, 55, a Hamilton County constable, was killed yesterday in an automobile accident on Road 130 near here. Jackson apparently lost control of his car when a rear tire blew out.

Fact-Finding Panel Chairmen Named

COLUMBUS (AP)—The General Assembly's Legislative Service Commission yesterday named these fact-finding committee chairmen:

Workmen's compensation, Rep. Roger Cloud (R-Logan); water pollution, Sen. Carl D. Sheppard (R-Summit); highways, Sen. Donald H. Rolf (R-Hamilton); problems of the aged, Rep. Kline L. Roberts (R-Franklin) and code revision, Rep. Kenneth F. Berry (R-Coshocton).

Inmates Needed

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Warden William C. Kindelan complained yesterday there aren't enough inmates in the state prison "to do work, especially outside the building." He blamed the drop in prison population to an increase in deferred or suspended sentences.
